2. MEPHA ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

a) CHAIR'S REPORT

Nicola Morgan-Soane, Vice-Chair of Mid EPHA, gave the following report.

Unfortunately, due to family illness, Cheryl had to step down from her role as Chair of Mid EPHA early in the summer term. Cheryl took on the role in June 2014 and was an excellent Chair for Mid. I'd like to thank Cheryl on your behalf and wish her the very best. Luckily, we have excellent representation from Headteachers in Mid Essex and I am grateful to them for the work that they do on your behalf.

What did 16/17 hold?

- An increasingly fragmented education landscape;
- White and green papers that never really happened;
- The departure of Michael Wilshaw and the arrival of Amanda Spielman – a much quieter Ofsted lead – and they even stuck to their promise not to change the framework;
- However, increased accountability and responsibility for headteachers, too often not directly associated with teaching and learning;
- A shrinking local authority which continues to restructure to reflect its reduced funding;
- Consultations that may or may not come to anything – National Funding Formula, primary assessment, forced academisation - who knows?
- Shrinking budgets and the difficult decisions that come with less funding;
- Another general election!

What is to come?

This year I have absolutely no clue. If America can elect Trump, then the possibilities are endless! Could it be:

- Grammars
- Academies
- More coasting schools
- A new Education White Paper

- The loss of Key Stage 1 SATs
- The introduction of a new national baseline
- Final ideas on the National Funding Formula
- The dreaded GDPR
- Training every teacher to be a mental health worker!

I cannot think of any other job in this country that covers the level of responsibility that you have coupled with the enormous emotional demands and ground level working that you undertake. Your resilience, stamina, sense of humour and general care of your staff and pupils is unmatched in any other profession.

We have a huge responsibility this year. We have to work together as one to challenge the new government, to challenge the status quo, to ask how the changes benefit children – because we really are the ones with the answer to that question. Too many times this year we have allowed the establishment to ‘do to us’, rather than take control, and this is something we must have the courage and conviction to change.

EPHA has gone from strength to strength and is, I think, supporting primary, infant and junior headteachers more than ever. The EPHA “offer” now includes termly briefings for groups of heads (in addition to these termly meetings), the helpful website, two brilliant conferences each year and free training events such as the RAISEonline training and the Coaching for the Soul sessions, as well as continued support from Pam and Nigel. These are very welcome in a world where all support seems to come with a hefty price tag. Thank you to them both for the work that they do to support EPHA and keep the association running so smoothly.

Thank you all for your support this year, and we hope that EPHA continues to play a distinct role in the multitude of collaborations and information streams you have available. Keep talking to us to make sure EPHA plays the role you want it to in the coming, no doubt eventful, year.

Cheryl Allard added her thanks to the EPHA representatives and Mid colleagues, and expressed her regrets that personal circumstances had forced the decision to step down as Mid Chair.

b) ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND LOCAL DELIVERY GROUP REPRESENTATIVES

Chair	Fiona Dorey (Great Bradfords Juniors)
Vice-Chair	Nicola Morgan-Soane (Trinity Road Primary)
Treasurer	Dawn Baker (Lawford Mead Primary)
Braintree	Kate Mills (John Ray Infants)
Chelmsford N	Amanda Reid (Perryfields Infants)
Chelmsford W	Dawn Baker (Lawford Mead Primary)
Chelmsford S	Nicola Morgan-Soane (Trinity Road Primary)
Halstead	Sarah Donnelly (Richard de Clare Primary)
Maldon	Dawn Dack (Wentworth Primary)
Dengie	Lois Ashforth (Cold Norton Primary)
Witham	Anna Conley (The Howbridge Infants)
South Woodham Ferrers	Amanda Buckland-Garnett (Collingwood Primary)

The officers and Local Delivery Group representatives were thanked for the hard work that they do on behalf of headteachers in the West Area and for agreeing to continue in their roles or taking on new positions.

- c) The Summer term EPHA newsletter, including dates for the 2017/18 school year, was circulated to headteachers at the meeting -these can also be found on the Newsletter page of the EPHA website www.essexprimaryheads.co.uk.

d) EPHA Annual Subscription

As agreed at the summer term meetings last year, funding for EPHA will no longer be through subscription, but will be top-sliced from the Delegated Schools Grant. Area meetings will continue to be “free” to all primary headteachers, as will the website, headteacher briefings and advice and support from the Professional Officer and Executive Director.

e) Conferences

Headteachers were reminded that the Deputy Headteachers’ conference will be held on Friday 6 October 2017 at the Weston Homes Community Stadium (key note speakers Andrew Hall and Sir John Jones) and next year’s annual Headteachers’ conference will be held on Friday 23 March 2018 at Stock Brook Country Club.

The programme and booking form for the Deputy Conference will be posted to schools at the end of June.

f) Recruitment and retention survey

Headteachers were asked to complete a survey about current recruitment and retention in their schools, and also their engagement and the impact of the strategies introduced by the Recruitment and Retention Task and Finish Group.

The outcomes of the survey have been collated and are included as an appendix to these minutes.

g) Future structure for area meetings

The EPHA Executive is considering changing the structure of area meetings, to reduce them to half days, with or without lunch. (The latter option would save a significant amount of funding). This is because the afternoon sessions are often poorly attended, despite booking a number of presenters. It is increasingly the case that many headteachers find it difficult to be out of their school for a whole day.

Mid heads were asked for their opinion.

- There was unanimous agreement that the meetings should be half a day.
- Headteachers wanted to continue to have lunch, as the networking time was valued.

One teacher went on maternity leave in September and had always intended to leave at the end of her maternity leave. The second teacher was on maternity leave and wanted to come back for 3 days per week. For a number of reasons, we were unable to accommodate this request. • 1 –moving closer to home • 2 – promotion • 2 – 1 relocated to live in Norfolk in December 2016 but has lodged locally in the week to stay with us until July. Deputy Head has moved into private sector. • 1 – leaving education • 1 – to another school • 3 – 1 leaving the profession, 1 NQT, one moving to private sector, one to a new school. • 3 – 2 to other schools, 1 stay at home dad • 5 – one promotion to Deputy, 4 due to quality of teaching decisions! • 2 – 1 promotion to a different area, 1 temporary no longer required. • 2 – 1 retiring, 1 for family reasons • 3 – 1 promotion to SENCo, 1 relocating to Scotland, 1 leaving teaching. • 3 – 1 emigrating, 1 promotion to Deputy, 1 NQT release from contract. • 3.5 – 1 to relocate to live with boyfriend, 1 to Dubai (Chasing the money), 1 to work in a private school (poached and offered the earth), 1 maternity leave starting autumn.

- 3 – moving nearer to home – traffic chaos on A12 and A120!
- 3 – 1 retiring and 2 to be closer to home (already lost 2 teachers at Easter – journey to Burnham turned out to be too far)

Comment

Significant number moving to private sector.

Some leaving teaching altogether.

Maternity crops up over and over again – plus the challenge of covering leave.

Number of class teacher vacancies/temporary cover arrangements from September

South	North East	West	Mid
One FT vacancy Two I have a 7th teacher on maternity leave who I have covered on a short term contract. One unqualified due to being unable to find quality maternity cover. 0.4 part time KS1 teacher – trying to appoint in next few weeks Temporary cover for maternity leave, covered internally due to tight budget. Currently 1 unfilled vacancy	One vacancy from September and one from January – although may be filled by the new term. Neither of 2 vacancies filled yet – 2 rounds of advertising, 1st round no applicants, 2nd round 4 applicants but only 1 suitable, who accepted a permanent place elsewhere. Now looking at agency CVs. Very difficult, very stressful. One vacancy currently – Yr4 None – but no SENCo	3 – I cannot replace any of these teachers with a permanent staff member so am desperately trying to get agency staff. This in itself is proving to be extremely difficult, as there is a definite shortage of agency teachers wanting full-time work. One not filled None at present, but each term we are managing recruitment issues. Two classes covered by agency staff as no quality responses to 3 advertisements. 2 – one due to school expansion. 2 – no appointments made yet for September. 1 post still vacant – advert out at the moment and hope to recruit one year fixed term.	1 job share in Year 1 is to be covered by two supply teachers. School has done this for a reason and will be looking to recruit a full time teacher in January 2018. We are interviewing soon for the one class teacher vacancy we have. If we are not able to appoint then my Deputy Headteacher will cover 3 days and I will use supply for the other 2 days. I will advertise the post again in the autumn term. 1 – one year contract to give time to recruit senior leader. 1 2 temp teachers until Christmas required, due to maternity leave teachers returning. None- have managed to fill vacancies, but only through DH taking on class responsibilities. Another maternity leave to fill for February.

Number/quality of applicants for recently advertised posts (if any)

South	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have struggled to recruit the right people in this academic year and for our EYFS vacancies had to advertise 5 times. Also, we couldn't recruit a Y2 teacher for Spring & Summer terms. • 1 poor – not qualified • 1st advert – 6 applicants, none shortlisted • 2nd advert – 10 applicants (including 2 from first round!) – 2 shortlisted and appointed 1 • 3rd advert – 2 applicants – none shortlisted • 9 – probably 4 out of these were of decent quality • Greater number for part-time vacancies. About 50% would not have considered appointing. • Yr5/6 teacher post has been advertised since October 2016. Very few applicants, many want part-time and don't want responsibility for Year 6 SATs

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 12 applicants for 2 posts – 8 were shortlisted and 1 appointed • 3 – 1 leaving teaching to become a surveyor/1 leaving to teach in Malaysia/1 moving to another school • 14 for DHT post • 17 applications for co-head vacancy/10 application for mainscale teachers • 9 applied for 3 posts – 4 were interviewed • 5 applicants for 1 post – none appointed • Good – 9 applicants for headteacher role. 8 applicants for Deputy role. CT was sought after. Other role covered by staff increasing contracts. • 3 applicants from 5 shortlisted- 2 appointed elsewhere before interviews. • 7 applicants invited – 3 to be interviewed, 2 had jobs before interview. • 4 – 3 of which were poor • 6 – only 2 worth interviewing.
North East	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On average, three or four applicants per advertisement. The quality is varied though most candidates are not suitable. • Recruited via teaching school – high quality • Replaced a teacher for last September – was able to recruit from a good quality range of applicants • Good initial field but rapidly dwindled as candidates were appointed elsewhere. • Retained 2 maternity cover teachers on a permanent basis, plus 2 new appointments (one from Suffolk) • 2 applicants for maternity leave – lower quality, one no primary experience/ 6 applicants for UPKS2 (strong) • Around 2 per post – quality variable • 2 applicants – not suitable
West	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Last advertised post – 2 applicants. Neither were shortlisted • 4 • 4 applied – 2 posts to fill • 15 applicants for assistant HT role – good quality; 6 applicants for 2 CT roles, 2 were good, luckily! But one Romanian with limited English, 2 without QTS and 1 trapeze artist!!! • Very little interest in Headteacher position – very small school so recruiting around L8 • Just one candidate for one vacancy, the other 2 NQTs applied. • Recent applicants have been poor. At least 2 interviewed within last 6 months I am unclear about how they have QTS! • I have had to advertise 3 times to cover one post. 15 applications over 3 adverts – 2nd advert, no applicants at all. Out of 15 candidates 3 were of good quality, the rest either long term supply teachers e.g. have never had a full time job. • 2 – 1 appointed, 1 NQT with gaps in knowledge at interview. • 8 – 7 were good, 1 teaching in Vietnam and her application was full of typos! • Maternity – 3 applicants, quality was medium to low. Teacher who was promoted – appointed our own SCITT student (also ex-TA at the school). We aim to “grow our own” teachers – this has been successful (4 out of 11 teachers recruited this way). Get in there early – offer strong CPD/induction to support career as well the school’s needs. • Higher number and quality than historically as now we are rated “good”. Average 4 applicants per post.
Mid	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We had an excellent response for a KS1 Class Teacher advert (March 2017) We shortlisted 6 and were able to appoint 2 – 1 being a fixed term maternity cover. The quality of remaining applications were generally very poor and quality of written references are also becoming a major issue. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • One • Good quality applicants for some posts but very few in numbers - in one case only 1 applicant- shortlisting not really a consideration. Some poor quality applications also received • I have, so far, received 3 applications for the advertised KS1/Early Years teacher. One person was not actually a teacher and did not hold QTS. One of the applicants did not read the advert carefully and thinks it is for an early years co-lead! • None of the applicants have requested a show round • 3 applicants – none shortlisted • Very poor – only 1 applicant for last advert • 3 applicants for post advertised in February for September – No applicants for one year contract CT • No appointments – 6 applicants, all poor. • 14 – generally good NQTs • 10 – but didn't appoint first time and re-interviewed. • Lots NQT. Very good quality field following SENCo advert. • First round – 6 applicants, 4 shortlisted, 3 arrived for interview; Second round – 5 applicants, 3 shortlisted, 2 arrived for interview;

Comment

A definite reduction in number of applications.

Many concerns about quality.

A “sellers” market and, in some areas (particular West) teachers asking for additional money.

Any R&R strategies which your school/partnership of schools is considering
South	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A re-structuring of teaching staff has helped to retain my experienced middle leaders which has aided stability for the school otherwise I could potentially have been losing up to 4 good+ teachers. • Now desperate! • Implemented extra week holiday in October, change of hours to create 1.30 pm finish on Friday afternoon, enabled creation of “leadership Academy” for all staff to focus and accelerate CPD. • CPD • Phase-group PPA • Not able to offer enhanced salary due to decreasing budget. • Early start NQTs • Overstaffing when finances allow. • Fast track EY trainee teacher to reach QTS, enabling her to teach a class full time. • Early start for new staff. • In the process of converting to a MAT with 3 other schools; hopefully this will open up greater opportunities for recruitment. • Reducing workload, responsibility and changing roles. • Good CPD – middle leader opportunities and training • Our school endeavours to provide support and shared responsibility to ensure the massive attainment pressure is collective responsibility. We still have our share of melt downs, but as yet no one has left!

North East	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Visits to Ireland for currently unemployed (but already qualified) teachers. Recruiting staff with potential and investing in supporting and training. • Networking and local intelligence • Graduate training schools • Portable salary • Academy with teachers' pay and conditions/Burgundy Book • Encouraging teachers 3-4 years into teaching with enhancements, areas of responsibility and good quality CPP. • One candidate recruited from an agency. • Appointing early (before vacancy in one case!) • Have engaged post maternity leave teachers in the past 2 years • Retention payments • Step into Teaching • LSAs on to Pathway to Teaching • Maintaining supportive, valuing work life, school's family ethos. • Ex-retired teachers • Over-recruiting has been discussed in past. • Teach First • Having trainee teachers/SCITT students • Graduate LSAs – assessment only route
West	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Working with TT training providers • Would consider overseas candidates • Use of R&R payments and for exceptional performance, movement of two places on the MPR • Part of 2 teaching training partnerships – Homerton/FIPC. • Advertising and taking a risk to appoint for a potential vacancy in the Trust without actually know for definite – could backfire so high risk • If budget allows, we are considering overstaffing to ensure we have enough teachers to cover all classes • Joint appointments across MATs • Offering health care plans to all teachers • Training more school based route teachers so that we have potential NQTs in school • I think any local Deputy heads need to be encouraged into headship in schools (especially small schools), particularly as small schools are unable to afford experienced HTs due to leadership spine. • Having students in school in order to appoint (if they are good quality) early on in the academic year. • Sharing a SENCo? • We don't have any issues recruiting BUT we write "bonkers" adverts that don't include the usual "outstanding teacher" blurb as we take that for a given! I only advertise online as I want IT savvy staff and not people having a moan in the staffroom reading Jobscene! • Use of School Direct salaried trainees to support direct teaching. • Working with ITT providers. My DHT is associate lecturer with main aim to recruit talented teachers. • Developing ITT. • Partnership with other schools.
Mid	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • I am also employing one of part-time teachers to lead on pupil premium interventions next year. • Early communication with students – supporting students – 'growing our own'

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Considering temporary TLR for teachers in school to do a specific piece of work linked to their area of responsibility. • Staff wellbeing and team building sessions. • The teacher who relocated to Norfolk in December was given PPA time on Friday afternoon, allowing her to leave at 12 noon on Friday to travel home. • Advertising through Facebook and Youtube • Joining a MAT to offer more school promotion pathways. • Childcare vouchers. • PD programme. • Restructuring TA posts. • SCTT • “Grow your own” into roles etc • RQT programme • We rely on agencies. • Sharing of contacts between partnerships. • Considering taking UQT and supporting through training. • Have already paid an external company to help with recruitment, but so far to no avail.

Disappointing uptake of strategies – lack of awareness, not applicable to primary in many cases, and insufficient focus on retention.

What, if any, has the impact been for your school?

Most answered this as a general comment about the impact of recruitment difficulty, rather than the use of the above strategies.

We appointed our last SCITT placement student on a full time contract.

None of the above. The issue (recruitment) has been slow to affect this school but we are now finding we need to address this more assertively.

Parental concerns over lack of consistency in teachers (4 teachers on maternity and one long term sick since September 2016).

Much less choice – back in 2012 I had 56 applicants for CT roles. Difficult to recruit to fixed term posts e.g. maternity cover

I've been aware of almost all of the above. We were attracting people to the school but we had to wait to get the quality of candidate we were looking for.

Always manage to recruit, but the quality of some NQTs is questionable and I am in dialogue with SCITT to improve the standard of teachers leaving training, particularly in basic classroom skills

There has been a huge time commitment for leadership team in recruiting staff.

This is particularly difficult due to the school's geographical location. There is a considerable amount of new housing and schools with growing roles - Two areas in close proximity offer Outer Fringe payments as part of salary package.

Need to revisit many areas of school practice and policies with staffing changes

Poor transition for pupils. Parents worried. Time and money recruiting.

RQTs appreciated support and network.
Praise notes for staff has improved morale.

Disastrous. Recruitment and retention is the worst I have seen it in all my teachers in leadership. We are constantly being trumped by schools in the nearby London boroughs of Waltham Forest and Redbridge who can offer more financial inducements than us. Also, there is the growing unwelcomed trend of some schools actively trying to poach teachers from other schools by contacting them to try to induce them to leave. This is not only unprofessional and immoral, but causing great instability amongst our workforce.

Possible use of overseas recruitment – updating of our Home Office Licence to sponsor potential teachers

Would not use Airsupply – not yet credible, no previous history and, if the EPHA presentation was anything to go by, poor.

Overseas agencies – have used these before in a bid to recruit staff, however was badly let down by one and their practice. In spite of appointing a teacher (via Skype interview) and emailing the firm etc the teacher continued to accept interviews (unbeknown to me) and several weeks later declined the job offer which left me in an even worse position with little time to recruit in the latter stages of the summer term. Therefore I am very nervous about using these in the future.

Continue to look for ways to recruit effectively and attract good candidates. To retain quality staff is key – however, budget restraints plus the size/capacity of the school also affects what can be offered (aspiration and desire do not always match with the reality of the situation).

This current academic year was the most difficult I have experienced in recruiting quality staff. We had to use additional EYFS Nursery experienced staff to cover the lack of teacher in the Nursery and had to resort to using one of our HLTAs in our Year 2 class (with support from the KS1 Phase Leader). A very difficult year! Staff were fully aware of what was happening and how difficult it was to recruit and we were all agreed we didn't just want to take someone because they had a piece of paper that said they were a qualified teacher.

Although formal advertisement has generated adequate interest, I believe that more proactive and creative recruitment activities have been more impactful. Speaking to parents about vacancies and gaps in support have been at the forefront of our recruitment drive as has professional networking locally. Budget constraints decimate the possibility of remunerating colleagues according to their impact on the school. However, REAch2 (world-class) CPD and the supportive, collaborative focus of a Visible Learning School have been instrumental in convincing potential colleagues that Kirby is worthwhile in investing in.

Funding retention

Succession planning (#growyourown!)

Central advertisement of potential vacancy.

When recently recruiting we contacted various agencies, Graham Lancaster re the overseas teaching initiative, teacher training providers and obtained the list of teachers on the return to teaching programme.

As part of TEIG R&R is a standing item on the agenda. Have worked with Tendring District Council. As the TTraining course at TEC is able to take more students, that should help.

Very understaffed during inspection of 2015, fully staffed in 2016/2017 – inspection grade 3 in 2015, high grade 2 in 2017.

SCITT programme has provided good quality applicants.

Engaging with SCITT. Encouraging TAs to train.

As you can imagine, huge (this was a school losing 6 out of 9 teachers). Lots of uncertainty (esp expecting Ofsted). Issues around subject leadership, in-school expertise. Also perception of parents, lots of gossip, think there is a big problem.

We continue to engage and work with Essex Teacher Training, we have 2 students for next academic year. One of our newly appointed teachers for September is our current student.

Current NQT and Beyond NQT programmes show commitment to candidate.

Two classes have had long term supply teachers for a term/half term – impacting on progress and attainment as well as behaviour.

Posts covered this academic year by agency staff. EYFS post at one school had to resort to agency teacher (lovely but recently acquired English speaker meant that phonics were interesting!). Replaced after some time of searching by good quality part-time staff who had recently left an Essex schools as disillusioned but experienced teachers, highly effective in my opinion. IMPACT – Ofsted inspection in January 2017 highlighted EYFS as a key issue. Parental confidence low and children obviously unsettled, but remarkably resilient to change.

Build culture so all systems are clear and have purpose.

Links to ITT had been strong across federation but placements are not coming through.

Development of roles (like SENCo) that could be shared across schools.

Retention of staff. Being part of a MAT has also helped as staff can move within which also helps professional development.

No impact from these strategies.

What would you like the Recruitment and Retention strategy group to focus on in the future?
South	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • One of my biggest issues is the quality of teachers coming out of ITT; they are generally not well prepared for working in a school like ours. • No idea! But there are no suitable candidates applying. • To be honest, I really am not sure. I knew about all but one resignation in March so did not have too many issues recruiting (I think I was lucky!). • Recruiting and retaining LSAs to work with children with SEMH is a real issues for us – even more than retaining teachers. • To focus on NQTs and supporting them not only in their 1st but also 2nd year to help retention. (Suggested by a number of respondents) • Alternatives to teacher pay and conditions. • Continue doing the positive work for us. Very grateful. • Looking at the root cause of all the dissention, unease and depression – so that we can then look at strategies to overcome and report those reasons directly to government, who seem to be completely oblivious to the real picture and causes.
North East	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Perhaps a pool of close quality “seconds” following interviews in a local area. • How to make your school advert stand out in Jobscene. • Strategies to promote Essex. • Helping experienced LSAs (without a degree) to study for teaching qualifications. • Quality teacher recruitment • Pathways – high quality applicants, use as LSA for first year.
West	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To continue to seek / find ways of providing incentives for candidates to locate to the area and stay for the longer term • We trained an Essex ITT student in school this year. He was very happy working with us, but he had to seek an appointment elsewhere due to the high cost of living in this area. • It is difficult to make a suggestion, as so many of the current problems stem from a lack of pay progression for teachers. Whilst this continues, they will leave the profession in droves or go to the highest bidder which is already taking place. • Encouraging more highly skilled people into the profession. • Addressing workload issues to support retention. • More training places. • Headship shortage a huge worry. • When you get good staff – focusing on retention as there is not enough money for UPS scales, promotions etc • Looking at attracting NQTs to Essex by offering incentives. We had a candidate who was asking for £7,000 more than we offered because that’s what she was paid in her current LA (incentives offered).

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Visas for overseas staff over 30. • Quality teaching assistants also hard to find.
Mid	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • References and their quality! • Teacher training. • Attracting high quality graduates into teacher training. Developing paid internships. • Funding high quality graduates. • Well planned dates/tasks/expectations. • Growing new teachers through training. • Support recruitment of temp teachers • Encouraging more people to go into teaching as it is a great job, despite what the media/government portray! • Supply of NQTs • RETENTION STRATEGIES.

Comment

Teacher training, ITT places and attracting high quality graduates is mentioned a lot.
